Regulations Changed By Postal Department For Over Sea Mail

Covers Mailing Packages, Etc., to Men On Foreign Duty
With Armed Forces—Ask That V-Mail Be Used

New regulations have been issued by the Postmaster General relative to mail being sent to the army personnel overseas. These regulations were issued January 7th and effective as of January 15th, 1943, and are being made in order to relieve cargo space on ships for military shipments and because of the limited facilities available for delivery of mail, and in order to keep the volume of mail dispatched overseas to a minimum.

No parcel exceeding 5 pounds in weight; or 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined, shall be accepted for dispatch to army or navy postoffices overseas for individuals.

No parcels shall be accepted for dispatch outside of the continental United States, unless they contain such articles only as are being sent at the specific written request of the addressee, approved by the battalion or similar unit commander of the addressee.

Individual copies of newspapers or magazines shall be accepted for dispatch to army or navy postoffices outside of the continental United States only when subscriptions are specifically requested in writing by the addressee, or for which subscriptions are now in effect. Such copies to individuals shall be accepted only from publishers who shall place on the wrapper or on the publication, when a wrapper is not used, a certificate reading as follows: "Mailed in conformity with P. O. D. Order No. 18687."

No circular matter of the 3rd class should be presented for mailing to army or navy postoffices overseas, as the War Department advises that it will not be dispatched from ports of embarkation.

V-mail will be transmitted either when micro film or in its original form to all army and navy postoffices overseas and transported by airplane where such facilities are available. Although letters prepaid at the normal rate of 6 cents per 1/2 ounce will continue to be transported by airplane as far as the ports of embarkation, the War Department advises that no assurance can be given that any letters other than V-mail will be dispatched by airplane from ports of embarkation to localities overseas served by V-mail.

The War Department states that individuals serving overseas desiring to request the mailing of parcels to them will be required to include in their request the following: A general description or the name of the article requested, his grade or rating, the complete address and the signature of the individual making the request. Parcels addressed to individuals at army or navy postoffices overseas must be accompanied by the approved written request of the addressee when presented for mailing. The request shall be postmarked by the postoffice employee accepting the parcel for mailing in such manner to prevent its reuse.

No parcels addressed to members of the armed forces shall be accepted as insured or C. O. D. mail, nor shall any letter or package or other article of value, except valuable papers addressed to members of the armed forces at such army postoffice, be registered. However, letters containing valuable or important papers can be registered but no postal insurance will be paid in connection with registered letters containing valuable or important papers.

The public should be advised that it is not advisable to enclose currency in ordinary letters. The use of money order service is recommended. Postmaster Leo G. Ford will be glad to give further advice to anyone desiring to forward mail, other than V-mail, to the boys in service overseas, and may we suggest that those writing to the boys overseas use V-mail letters, and in this way we will be assisting the War Department and the Postoffice Department in saving cargo space that can be utilized for the shipment of military equipment. V-mail letters can be had at the Bay St. Louis Postoffice and the postmaster advises that he has quite a supply on hand and that there is no charge for these copies.

NURSING SCHOOL OPENS

To Care For Children Whose Mothers Are Working

The Hancock County Nursery School started operating on full schedule on Thursday of this week. The school is under the direction of Mrs. Wm. H. May who is assisted by Mrs. C. M. Shipp and Mrs. W. W. James. In addition to these ladies, Mrs. Andy Becker and Miss Dorothy Murphy will be added to the staff upon completion of their course of study which they are now taking at Mississippi Southern College in Hattiesburg.

The purpose of the nursing school is to relieve mothers of the care of their children so that they may become engaged in defense work, or that they may take positions which will relieve men from non-defense jobs so that they may become engaged in defense work.

This is a war time program, and the women who are presently working and who have children should not hesitate to enter their children in the nursery school. This is not a charity institute. A small weekly charge of fifty cents will be made for the first month and then a definite amount per week will be set thereafter. When the full program is set up the children will be cared for from 6:00 o'clock in the morning to 7:00 o'clock in the evening. They will be served fruit juices in the morning and given their noon-day meal, and preparations have been made so that they will be able to sleep in the afternoon. The playground at the Webb School have been arranged so that, regardless of weather conditions, the children will be given some type of diversion.

We feel that this is an asset to the community, and we believe that the children who enter this school will be in good hands and will be properly cared for. If you are interested in having your child placed in the nursery school, may we suggest that you contact the director, or one of her assistants.

CENTRAL SCHOOL P. T. A. MEETING

The Central School P. T. A. met on Tuesday afternoon in the music room of the school with the president Mrs. F. J. Nelson presiding.

The nominating committee reported the nomination of Mrs. Eugene Mogabgab as vice president to succeed Mrs. F. J. Trastour resigned. Mrs. Trastour found it necessary to resign because she had accepted a position in New Orleans and commutes daily.

Mrs. Harold Weston reported for the committee on the purchasing of benches for the school grounds of the lower grades. Mrs. Weston said that plans had been completed for the financing of the building of the benches and work would begin shortly.

The highlight of the program was the presence of Miss Floretta Wright of Hattiesburg, area supervisor of the Child Protection program in Mississippi who is in Bay St. Louis in the interest of the nursery school which opened here Monday.

From the quiz on the nursery school conducted by Mrs. Harold May director, and Mrs. W. W. James and Mrs. C. M. Shipp assistants, much information was gleaned from this quiz and many questions answered thus giving a better understanding of the work to be done in a school of this kind.

Following the quiz, Miss Wright talked to the group of how a town may be allowed a nursery school and also answered some other questions which grew out of her talk.

The nursery school is a new venture and all of this which was tied up with the year's theme "Care of Youth During Wartime" was timely and informative.

Bay High Band To Sell War Stamps and Bonds

The Bay St. Louis High School Band will start their house-to-house sale of U. S. War Savings Stamps and Bonds Thursday January 14th. The members of the band will sell Bonds and Stamps on the following streets: Thursday, No. Beach, South Beach, Union, Carroll, Second, Toulon, Union, Esterbrook. When the organization finds that the amount of time they have permits them to make more territory they will add more streets. Each Monday and Thursday the group will start on their routes at three forty P. M. and will work until dark. The group will have books to hold the stamps for the people starting new stamp books. This drive is in connection with the stamp sale going on now at the Bay High School.

The local Red Cross Chapter gave two warm quilts and four lounging robes to the Merchant Seamen's Convalescent Home which has been opened just recently at Camp Kittawake on the other side of Pass Christian. This home has been opened as a place for recuperation after the seamen have left the hospital. This rest period is usually for two weeks before the men return to their ships.

Donations are still being requested to help fill the Soldiers' kits.

Workers are badly needed to help in the Production and Surgical Dressing rooms, at all times.

SCOUTING NEWS

Troop 208 has reorganized and held its weekly meeting in K. C. Hall, Wednesday. "Doc" Elliott is the new scoutmaster, and promises an interesting and varied program for Scouts of his troop in the coming months. Father John Niemeyer will assist "Doc." Boys between the ages of 12 and 16 will find scout activities in Troop 208 intensely interesting and close to every boy's heart. Join up at the next meeting.

Scoutmaster Fred Fayard reports a Court of Review to be held the week of January 18th. Boys who are in line for awards will be examined in their different Scout abilities and, if successful, given badges at a later meeting. With spring and the call of the outdoors just around the corner, Scoutmaster Fayard, and Assistant Buddy Garcia, are planning some work and fun for the boys of 217.

A meeting of the Scout Executives Committees of Pass Christian and Bay St. Louis was held Friday, 8th at the Reed Hotel, with H. W. Lettister as Chairman. These men, are keenly interested in developing complete Scout programs for their communities, knowing that, now more than any time, the need for Scout training in building morale, health and spiritual development among boys, is greater than ever. Co-operation is asked from parents and youths to make this movement a success.

Enters U. S. Navy Nursing Corps

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fayard have added another star to their service flag which hangs in the window of their home on Sycamore street upon the enlistment of their daughter, Miss Marjorie Rose Fayard, in the United States Navy Nursing Corps.

Miss Fayard, or Lieutenant Fayard, is a graduate of St. Joseph Academy and the Nursing School of Hotel Dieu in New Orleans and for the past five months has been engaged in private practice in New Orleans awaiting her appointment which she received recently. After enjoying a ten day visit at the home of her parents, Miss Fayard left on January 5th for Norfolk, Virginia, to report to the Naval Hospital there for basic training and hopes for active sea duty upon the completion of her training.

Fred Fayard, Jr., the other service man in the Fayard family, has seen active service in Africa and in Egypt, recently returning to this country and is at present training at a pre-flight school at Maxwell Field, Alabama.

Opens Packing Season January 13th

The Dorgan Packing Company opened its packing season on January 13th with an abundance of oysters brought in by fifteen boats to be shucked and packed.

Mr. Frank Gutierrez, manager, states that as part of the defense program, the factory has orders which will keep it busy for a long time filling the orders for canned seafood for the armed forces as the ban on tin cans for use in packing has been lifted and there will be no let-up in work because of a shortage of material.

Top wages are being paid, a worker of ordinary ability being able to earn from $4.00 to $6.00 a day, and a more proficient worker being able to earn $7.00 and over a day.

With the opening of the oyster packing season, it will be possible for both men and women to secure work at excellent pay right here in Bay St. Louis without having to leave the city and travel elsewhere along the Coast.

To forge more securely the links of understanding between the people of the United States and the people of the United Nations, over 16,000 theatres throughout the country are sponsoring United Nations Week—a week in which the heroic efforts of our Allies will be recounted, in which their deeds and ideals will be presented so that we, the American people, may glean a fuller knowledge and awareness of what our Allies are contributing to this struggle for justice and freedom; so that we, the American people, shall find our bond of friendship and courage strengthened.

United Nations Week, January 14 through 20th, is dedicated to the belief that United we stand, and United we shall conquer. This is the first Editorial on United Nations Week—From the New York Journal-American, Friday, December 11, 1942.

Letters From The Boys In Service

From Pvt. Theo. Tudury, Jr., Air Forces Advanced Flying School, Roswell Army Flying School, Roswell, N. M.
Dear Red:
How are you feeling, and how are the kids getting along? Tell them all "hello" for me, especially Gregory.

I surely thank you for the Echo. It keeps me posted with what is going on at home. Well, at last they are going to get my friend "Co-Co" Caddy. I bet he is mad.

Tell the kids to write. I'll be glad to hear from them and I'll be sure to answer all of their letters. Again thanking you for sending me the Echo, as I really enjoy reading it.

Your backyard neighbor,
Pvt. Nooney Tudury, Jr.

From a-c Fred Fayard, Jr., A. A. F. Pilot, Flight (Pilot), Maxwell Field, Ala.

Dear Mr. Favre,
I receive the copies of your paper weekly since I returned to the States. I really appreciate it and look forward to receiving the news of home through the medium of the Echo. Incidentally those copies which were sent to my overseas address were received. From the postmarkings, they have covered quite a bit of country before reaching their destination. In addition to the India address mentioned in a previous issue as being the place where Roy Strong and I were stationed, there were those in the Middle East where I was last stationed in foreign service. Judging from these markings and the numerous "over there" places mentioned as being the camps of the other Bay servicemen, your paper travels as much as the Air Corps Ferry Command.

I am now at Pre-Flight school (pilot). Here we receive the necessary academic work and physical training to prepare us for primary school where actual flying lessons begin. Please make my change of address on your next mailing list. Thanking you, I remain,
Sincerely yours,
Fred Fayard, Jr.

From Pvt. Argle M. Shaw, Prov. Co. U. S. Army, 2nd Armed Medical Bn., 9th Armd. Div. Fort Riley, Kansas.
Dear Mr. Favre,
I received the Sea Coast Echo last week and surely did enjoy reading it but have missed getting it this week as it was probably sent to the hospital. I wish you would have it sent to my present address.

Yours truly,
Argle M. Shaw

From Cedric Heitzmann, 286 Quarter 1, Refrigeration Company, Cal., Berkeley, Texas.
Dear Mr. Favre,
Just a line or two to say that I've been getting the Echo and want to thank you for it. It is just like being home when the paper comes, for I read every little nook and corner of it and really enjoy it.

I am the only Bay St. Louis boy in this camp but everyone is friendly and we get along fine. I heard that there were boys from Waveland here, and as soon as I get their addresses I am going to visit them. It is snowing here at present, and it is really pretty, for the flakes are very large, and it is cold, too. Again thanking you and the staff, and wishing all a Happy and Most Prosperous New Year, I am,

Your friend,
Cedric Heitzmann.

From Pvt. Alvin A. Cameron, Camp Maxey, Texas.
Dear Mr. Favre,
Thanks a million for sending me the Echo. I really do appreciate your kindness and can't thank you enough. I am sure all the Hancock County boys feel the same.

Wishing you the best of luck, and give my regards to your many friends in Bay St. Louis.

From Lionel T. Borne, 89 Division Camp Carson, Colorado.
Dear Mr. Favre,
I received the Sea Coast Echo during my basic training at Camp Barkeley, Texas. I assure you that every boy from Hancock County enjoys reading it. We all like to hear and know just what is going on at home.

I hope to get a furlough soon. It will be good to get back to Lakeshore for a few days. Will you please change my address on your mailing list. Thanking you, I am,
Sincerely yours,

DYING FOR WHOM AND FOR WHAT?

EVERY American must decide, for himself or herself, whether to support the nation in its wars, which means the cheerful acceptance of sacrifices that give strength and protection to men who are risking their lives on the fighting fronts. We are desperately engaged by ruthless enemies. We did not attack them; they ganged up on us. Inevitably, the nation moved toward successful defense, even if it proceeded slowly, ponderously and inefficiently, in the manner of democracies. Intelligent Americans did not expect a miracle in the management of government or of military matters. They understand that when we go to war, we are amateurs, opposed by professionals. As with all democratically controlled states, we were not organized socially, economically, politically or militarily for all-out warfare.

Loyal Americans, facing stringent regulations, promulgated under the explanation of war-time emergency, accept them, and, because of the boys on the battle lines, postpone debate, recrimination and the inalienable right to contest any restriction upon individual rights.

The time will come for this later. Today, we fight a war. Tomorrow may claim a million American lives if we divide our strength in selfish squabbles and foolishly quarrel at home. Of what avail the death of men in jungles and at sea if all they surrender is consumed in business as usual, life as usual and politics as usual?

What soldier or sailor would willingly give up his life for blatant householders whose complaint is that their rooms are chilly? How many men should die to protect selfish people who are unwilling to accept food rationing in order that soldiers might eat? Who should perish that arrogant Americans may continue to complain over sugar rationing and other small sacrifices?

MIRACLES COST MONEY

ONE of the first requisites of sound post-war planning is sound taxation. Our Federal tax policy should be directed toward two objectives: First: paying for the war; second, maintaining a financially strong industrial structure. Industry should be encouraged to build reserves to meet the inevitable and gigantic costs of reconversion to peacetime needs. Unless this is done, plans for the future, both of government and industry, will be doomed to failure. Industry will be hampered in rebuilding a war-torn world. Government will be hampered in its effort to encourage full employment, and collect needed tax revenues.

The depression consumed practically all of industry's cash reserves. Unwise tax laws, misguided social reforms have prevented the re-accumulation of reserves.

Industry has shown during the past year that it has the imagination and capacity to respond when our national existence is threatened. Never has the world seen our equal in military production—thanks to industry. And now with the problems of peace arising, it will again be up to industry to work a miracle. Millions of persons must be shifted from war jobs to peace jobs. Industry must supply the jobs. It must produce as never before, or this country will face state socialism, the very thing the war has fought to prevent.

When peace comes, industry must have cash reserves to remodel factories, to fashion a better civilization. If taxes take all the profits, there will be no reserves.

READY TO "DELIVER" WHEN NEEDED

THE story of the development of aviation in the United States gives any red-blooded person a thrill. Only a few short years ago large crowds gathered at local airports to see pioneer pilots take off in open cockpit planes, to carry the early mail.

Through trials and tribulations, America's modern airlines were born. When the present war started they were reaching every section of the nation, flying millions of miles annually and carrying passengers and mail on schedules as regular as the clock.

Building this service developed techniques, personnel and experience which were invaluable to our government when we entered the war. Many of the commercial planes were immediately pressed into Army service for transporting supplies and men to all parts of the country. The commercial pilots were ready to take on that job.

Today, the Air Transport Command of the Army, under the able leadership of Major General Harold Lee George, utilizing the trained personnel of the commercial airlines, is reaching the four corners of the earth, in hours or days, with men and equipment, when it used to take weeks and months. Again, an industry, pioneered by private enterprise and private capital to a point of world supremacy, was ready to "deliver" when the emergency arose.

Private enterprise, working in its production and service sphere in full cooperation with our armed services, can match its strength against any dictatorship yet devised. More power to the record being made by the Air Transport Command of the Army under Major General Harold Lee George, and to the personnel and equipment of our commercial air lines. They are helping to win a military victory on the one hand, and demonstrating the ability, the versatility and the soundness of our free enterprise system, on the other hand.

SAFEGUARDING CONVOYS

REPORTS of a naval battle in the North Atlantic causes speculation that the powerful German battleship Tirpitz may have essayed a raid upon convoys carrying war supplies, and maybe troops, to Great Britain and Russia.

The incident illustrates that the battleship has some use in naval enterprises. If the Nazis send the Tirpitz into the Atlantic to raid our convoys they will find them protected by British and American battleships.

Most people overlook the burden that rests upon the Allied fleets which must not only protect convoys against U-boat raiders but safeguard them against surface ship raiders, such as the Tirpitz and fast German cruisers.

A. & G. THEATER
SUNDAY - MONDAY
"ROAD TO MOROCCO"Starring Crosby, Hope
And Lamour

A couple of Arabian Knights, said to be fabulous beyond imagination, are to be loosed on a suspecting movie public next Sunday and Monday nights when Paramount's new "Road" picture, "Road to Morocco," travels into the A. & G. Theater. Said "knights" are none other than Bing Crosby and Bob Hope, ne'er-do-wells, shipwrecked on the coast of Morocco, to the bewilderment of Princess Shalmar who, on the slim chance that you haven't guessed it yet, is played by Dorothy Lamour.

"Road to Morocco," according to glowing advance reports, way out-does, by actual count of gags and laughs, "Road to Singapore," and "Road to Zanzibar," both of which also triple-starred Bing Crosby, Bob Hope and the beautiful Dorothy Lamour.

"Morocco" follows the same general idea as the other two "Road" films in that it concentrates on gags and laughs, girls and music, and just lets the story keep up with them as best it can. A good many of the gags will have received wide circulation long before the picture is seen here. A lot of people will have heard about Mabel, the talking camel—about Bing's selling Bob who supposed slavery and then finding him living in the lap of luxury in the palace of Princess Shalmar (Dorothy Lamour)—about the scene in the desert when Bob actually becomes "a monkey's uncle"—about the break-up of the Sheikh's retreat and the rescue of the Princess.

Just to think of Bing and Bob made up to look like Arabs is enough to get a laugh. And Hope's fans are going to howl with delight when they see him gotten up like a pampered Pasha. He took a lot of kidding from Crosby for his fancy costuming, but Hope claims it was worth it just to get inside a harem for once in his life, even if it's only the Hollywood variety.

Such goings-on as go on in "Road to Morocco" have won it the reputation of being the funniest, wackiest film ever made individually or collectively by two of America's top funnymen.

Music is provided by Johnny Burke and James Van Heusen. It includes four hit tunes radio listeners are already singing—"Moonlight Becomes You," "Ain't Got a Dime to My Name (Ho Ho Hum)," "Road to Morocco" and "Constantly."

Death of Mrs. Celine
Vergez

The death of Mrs. Marie Celine Vergez, beloved wife for first marriage of the late William Henry Brown and by second marriage of the late Victor E. Baumgardner, occurred on Monday January 11th at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Felix V. Bruen on North Beach Boulevard.

Funeral services were held from the Fahey Funeral Home on Tuesday January 12th followed by requiem mass at 11:00 o'clock A. M. at Our Lady of the Gulf Church with the Very Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch officiating, and the remains conveyed to New Orleans via automobile hearse for interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

With Russia continuing her merciful years, having suffered a stroke seven years ago, and her passing was not unexpected.

She was one of thirteen children, twelve of whom were born in Pau, France, and member of one of Louisiana's old French families.

She was a native and resident of New Orleans where she was active in church circles, having worked for years in the Parish of Our Lady of Lourdes Church.

To the family of this estimable woman the sympathy of the community is offered in their bereavement.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Felix V. Bruen with whom the deceased resided, and two granddaughters, Mrs. A. L. Church and Mrs. Walter H. Fush, both of New Orleans.

A Good Balance

On the last day of December the State of Mississippi had a general fund balance in the state treasury of $12,093,206.07. Funds turned into the treasury since the first day of January has brought the balance up to approximately 13 million dollars. All highway bonds due for payment have been paid off. At the present time there is no indication of an extraordinary session of the legislature.

Special Elections

Gov. Johnson has called elections to be held in the third and seventh circuit court districts for the election of district attorneys. In the third district the vacancy was caused by the election of Thos. Abernethy to congress and in the seventh, district the election of Hugh Gillespie as circuit judge. The date for the special elections is Saturday, January 30th.

Oil in Lincoln

There is a good chance to develop an oil field in Lincoln County. A well located four or five miles north-west of Brookhaven has a showing of oil and it seems almost certain that it will be a producing well. Another strong probability for a new field is around Natchez. There will be a vast deal of wildcat drilling in the state this year and with good hope of success in some sections.

Mississippi Leads

According to a statement given out by the director, J. M. Bryant, the WPA in Mississippi collected more scrap metal and scrap rubber than any other WPA in the United States. Mr. Bryant reports that the WPA project in Mississippi collected in eight months 84,180,523 pounds of scrap metal and 3,787,803 pounds of scrap rubber.

Fine Opportunity

Mississippi farmers will have a fine opportunity this year to make a substantial contribution to the war effort by producing large crops of food stuff. Our figures did wonderfully well in 1942 and deserve much credit for responding so splendidly to the call for increased production. The war can not be won without food for the soldiers at the front and the civilians behind the lines.

Up Goes Production

It was reported last week that 10,000 workers in the big Ingalls shipyards at Pascagoula, responded to the urgent call of Eddie Rickenbacker in his fine address to the American people, and pledged themselves to step up production in every possible way. That is a fine example and one worthy of emulation by labor unions all over the country. One of the most imperative needs of the present situation is ships, merchant ships as well as war ships.

Griffin Re-Appointed

Congressman McGeehe has announced the re-appointment of A. C. Griffin as post-master at Jackson. No opposition to his confirmation by the Senate is anticipated. The postoffice at Jackson has grown wonderfully in the past few years and is now handling a tremendous volume of business.

Raking Around

Judge James A. Finley, retiring chancellor of the first district, has opened an office in his home town of Tupelo for the general practice of law. John Burton Bain of Belzoni has received three medals—three decorations for bravery in the fighting around the Solomon Islands.

Mrs. Wendell Willkie served as a jury in New York last week. The Houston Hospital has been sold by Dr. V. B. Philpot to Dr. John D. Dyer and associates, Dr. Dyer being the new president and surgeon-in-charge. New Orleans says many muskrats are being dressed and shipped to the North and East to help out the meat shortage. Trappers in Louisiana get about 6,000,000 muskrats per season. Capt. John Allen Ellard, of Jackson, after being "lost" for a year has turned up in a Jap prison, so the war department informs his wife. Dr. George W. Carver noted Negro chemist at Tuskegee died on January 5th. He was born a slave and in childhood was traded for a race horse. He found more in peanuts and sweetpotatoes than any other man that ever lived. Sam Rayburn of Texas was re-elected Speaker of the House when Congress assembled on January 6th. Presidents of all the state-owned colleges will be up for re-election at a meeting of the board this month.

ORTE THEATER
SUNDAY AND MONDAY
"INVISIBLE AGENT"Starring Ilona Massey, and
Jon Hall with Peter Lorre,
Sir Cedric Hardwicke,
J. Edward Bromberg

From Universal studios, long famed for a succession of "out of this world" film sensations dating from "Phantom of the Opera," a new fantastic production "Invisible Agent" comes to Ortte Theater Sunday and Monday.

Players Co-Starring
Ilona Massey and Jon Hall are co-starring in the film while Peter Lorre, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, J. Edward Bromberg and John Littel have featured roles. Albert Basserman and Keye Luke will be seen in prominent supporting parts.

"Invisible Agent" is the latest of a series of unique melodramas beginning with the picturization of H. G. Wells' best seller, "Invisible Man," which was produced several years ago by Universal. In the interim there have been sequels, "Invisible Man Returns," and "Invisible Woman," to perpetuate the extraordinary cycle whose success is lucidly attested to both by boxoffice returns and flattering editorial and word-of-mouth comment.

The newcomer is described as an inspired and highly imaginative dramatization of the adventure of a daring United Nations' secret operative. Because of his ability to strip off his clothes and achieve invisibility, he is able to penetrate enemy headquarters in Europe and ferret out guarded military secrets.

Shot in the key and tantalizing role is Jon Hall, recently exploited as an American Wanger's "Eagle Squadron."

Ilona Massey is glamorously cast as an important key in international espionage, a mystery woman who seemingly plays Axis interests against the United Nations in the critical game of war.

Adept in scoring in weird roles while floating uncanny makeup devices, Peter Lorre portrays a ruthless Jap diplomat in Berlin. The character of the Jap, it will be recalled is not new to Lorre, he having given it unctuous interpretation as the screen's fabulous "Mr. Moto."

Hardwicke, in the role of an enemy espionage higher-up, is making his second appearance as the would-be nemesis of the invisible hero, for he previously appeared in "The Invisible Man Returns." J. Edward Bromberg enacts the role of Hardwicke's envious and conniving aide, while John Littel, Albert Basserman and other sterling players are strategically cast in "Invisible Agent."

HITLER PHONES FOR RESERVATION

Hitler called up the Devil on the telephone one day. The girl at Central listened to all they had to say. "Hello," (twice Hitler speaking) "Is old man Satan home?" "Just tell him it's the Dictator who wants him on the phone." The Devil said, "Howdy Dolf" and Hitler said, "How are you?" "Oh I'm running well-on-earth, so tell me what to do." "What can I do," the Devil said, "dear old pal-o-mine?" "You don't need any help from me—your're doing mighty fine." "Yes I was doing fairly well," until some time ago. When a man called Uncle Sam told me to go slow." He said to me, "Dear Hitler, we don't want to be unkind." But you've raised hell enough, so you'd better change your mind." I thought his lease-lend plan was bluff; he'd never get through. But soon he put me on the spot, when he told me what to do. So that's why I called you Satan—I need advice from you; For I know that you can tell me exactly what to do." Satan said, "Dear partner there is not much left to tell; For Uncle Sam will make it hotter than I can here in hell. I have been a real old Devil, but not half as mean as you. So the minute you get down here the job is yours to do. I'll be ready for your coming and I'll keep the fires all bright. And I'll get your room ready, as soon as Sam begins to fight. I know your days are numbered, and there's nothing left to tell. Hang up your phone, put on your hat, and come on down to Hell!" —C. C. FERGUSON

John Henry Fayard, Aged 73 Years, Dies at Ballentine Street Home

John Henry Fayard, aged 73, died at his home here in Ballentine street Saturday morning at 10:30. Mr. Fayard had not been in the best of health for some time but was up and around and interested in outside affairs. About two weeks ago he seemed suddenly to begin to fail and went to bed at the advice of his physician and death came without acute suffering and it was known that his heart was not strong.

Mr. Fayard was a native and life resident of Bay St. Louis and was the last remaining member of his immediate family which was one of the older families of the town.

Mr. Fayard followed the work of contractor and builder until of late when he was not strong enough to carry on but he still kept up his garden for which he was well known and which was his hobby. He was famed for the vegetables he raised. He had a wide circle of friends and was an exemplary citizen.

Funeral services were held here Sunday at 3 p. m. with the rites of the Catholic Church at the Fahey Funeral home and at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with interment in Cedar Rest cemetery.

His pallbearers were Joseph F. Fayard, Charles Neubauer, Peter Fayard, August Vassalli, Maurice J. Artigues and Daniel Ziegler, Sr.

Mr. Fayard is survived by his wife the former Miss Eleanor Vassalli, seven daughters, Mrs. Raymond Troups of New Orleans, Mrs. Merrill Corey of Washington, D. C., Mrs. Wallace Boyd and Miss Julia Fayard of Utica, New York, Mrs. E. B. Hale of South Lynnfield, Mass.; Mrs. H. O. Schultz of Albuquerque, New Mexico and Mrs. F. N. Milton of Oakland, California, and three sons, Private Charles Fayard of Fort Riley, Kansas, James M. Fayard of New Orleans and John Henry Fayard, Jr., of Bay St. Louis.

The large number of floral offerings attested mutely to the esteem in which Mr. Fayard was held.

The Echo extends to the family deep sympathy in their loss.

Estate of John J. Bordages Deceased

Letters testamentary on the estate of John J. Bordages, deceased were granted to the undersigned by the Chancery Court of Hancock County, Mississippi on the 12th day of January, A. D. 1943, and therefore notice is hereby given requiring all persons having claims against said estate to present and have the same probated and registered by the Clerk of said court within six months from this date and failure to so probate and register the same in six months will bar the claim.

This 15th day of January 1943. ROGER C. BORDAGES
Executor of the Estate of John J. Bordages, Deceased.

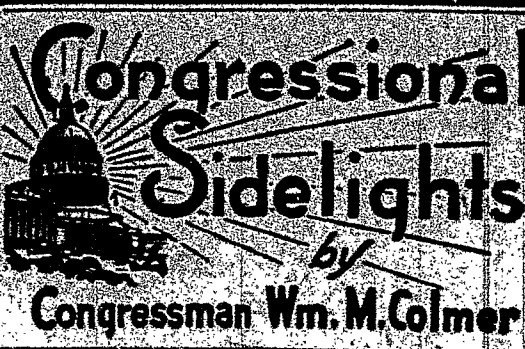

The New Year, 1943, is "the end of the beginning." A greater burden of toil and conflict lies ahead. And while America's sons fight in desert and jungle, telephone communication lines at home will carry an ever-increasing load of calls vital to Victory.

Telephone materials are still going to battle in the form of guns and shells. So, to get the most out of our present equipment, we will continue to need your help in keeping long distance lines clear of all but necessary calls. And remember, the greater the distance you talk, the greater the chance of your call getting in the way of important war calls.

We are most grateful for the patriotic response during 1942, to our requests for voluntary reduction of unnecessary long distance calls. It helped us provide the service so badly needed in those critical times.

For the duration, we can continue to best serve the telephone needs of all by serving our country first.

SOUTHERN BELL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY
INCORPORATED

The new, or 78th, Congress was organized on January 6th and has begun its labors in possibly the most trying time in the history of the Republic. Its duties are stupendous; its responsibilities are great. It no doubt will go down in history as one of the most important sessions in the history of the nation. Two years from now when its labors, its trials and its tribulations will have ceased as such it will be weighed and evaluated. It will be either praised or chastised by the people who selected it to represent them in these stringent days. However, it might be well for all to bear in mind that the Congress does not wage war. It does not pass upon military strategy. It does not formulate campaigns. All of this is left, particularly and specifically, in the hands of the Commander-in-Chief, the President of the United States. Our forefathers so provided in the Constitution. But its duties and responsibilities are none the less important. For the President must depend upon Congress as the representative of the people to furnish the sinews of war—money and men.

President's Address

In this connection the President's message to the Congress and the country was most satisfactory. The Congress, as the people's representative and protector of their liberties, was apprehensive as the result of newspaper stories and rumors that the President's message would demand of the Congress a continuance of social reforms on an even enlarged scale over what has heretofore been expected. There is a well-formed and substantial impression among the Members of Congress that this is no time for experimentation in social reforms. But that the winning of the war is and should be the paramount issue. It was therefore gratifying to the Congress and to the country that the President in his able address to the Congress placed "first things first" and emphasized the war effort above everything else.

His capitulation of the progress which has been made in the production of war materials was most heartening to our country and disheartening to our enemies. The fact that we had been able, for instance, in the first year of our all-out war effort to produce some 48,000 military airplanes was indeed most gratifying. Any doubt that our ability was not sufficient to eventually win this war, provided we put forth our best efforts, should be dispelled by that accomplishment alone. Airplanes may not be the only weapon which will win the war, but superiority in the air will be the controlling factor. This year we should be able to build 65,000 to 80,000 planes if necessary.

The War

Mrs. Baumgardner was an invalid less slaughter of the Germans on the western front, with the British and American progress in Africa, with the slow but determined annihilation of the Japs by our own forces in the Pacific, we have just cause for optimism in the beginning of this our 2nd year in this gigantic global strife. But, again, it must be borne in mind the we are engaged in no picnic adventure. While these preliminary successes are gratifying, he who wishfully thinks that this war will end this year is indeed most optimistic. If the European war is won this year it will be won by the Russians. But even that is too optimistic to hope for. The Japs, entrenched as they are behind thousands of outlying islands, and possessed as they are of a religious fanaticism which permits of no surrender but requires extermination, will be a thorn in our side for years to come. We must count on years and not months of sacrifice, blood and tears.

It is common sense to be thrifty. If you save you are thrifty. War Bonds help you to save and help to save America. Buy your ten percent every pay day.

Personally, I am not interested in any other form of government or form of economy than our own. I admire beyond expression the stand the Russians have made. They are fighting nobly for Russia and Soviet ideals. We're fighting for America and American ideals. I am not making guns or tanks to win a "people's revolution." I am making armament to help our boys save America. I don't want any "modified" free enterprise or Bill-of-Rights democracy. Immediately after the war, government aid to war-torn countries is a foregone conclusion. But not the rehabilitation of their economy or the reforming of their lives. I am not fighting for a quart of milk for every Hottentot, or for a TVA on the Danube, or for government handouts of free Utopia. W. B. Withrow, retiring President of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Here is a good statement of plain common sense.

It comes as a spot light in a dark room.

Let us hope it will be a stimulant.

Timely Campaign

A nation-wide campaign is being started by the National Safety Council in co-operation with the United States public health service in an effort to reduce accidents and illness. Dr. Parran, of the health service, states that in 1942 there were 450,000 man days lost on account of accidents and illness. More than 46,000 people were accidentally killed in the United States last year, and several million others were hurt, some crippled for life. The sponsors of this important movement argue that it is a contribution to the war effort to keep people well and to avoid accidents, which take people away from their work. In this campaign every man, woman and child in America can have a part—avoid accidents and keep yourself well.

Library Notes

Watch for the announcement of the Book Review to be held under the auspices of the Hancock County Library Board on January 26. The name of the book and the reviewer will be given later but the review will be held on that date and since this is the first review since November we know this will be gladly received by those who are lovers of reading.

"I Love You, I Love You, I Love You" by Bemelmans, "The Robe" by Douglas and "Our Hearts were Young and Gay" by Skinner are among the books to be had at the library.

The Victory Book Campaign of 1943 is here and this is to remind you that the government expects you to furnish books for the boys in service. Remember that this is important and every American citizen is expected to respond in a big way. Doubtless the question will be asked why this new call for books but that is because the ranks of the armed forces are increasing rapidly and so the need for books is greater than it was in 1942.

Hancock County did not do its part in the book campaign last year but it is hoped that here will be enough interest this year to put Hancock County in the front row where it has always been when called upon for our boys.

PLEASE do not send old discarded books. The government has always asked for the best for the best means the armed forces. Please send good fiction such as the best seller list, western, adventure, mystery and detective for publication. Technical books published not earlier than 1935 in the fields of mathematics, machine mechanics, and design, electricity, radio, photography, aeronautics, navigation, meteorology, chemistry, physics, shop mechanics, military science, mechanical drawing, architecture, etc.

Funny books, books of jokes, humorous stories, anecdotes, cartoons, and groups of games in good physical condition.

This gives you a nice margin in which to do your buying for the VBC and it is hoped that there will be no delay in getting these to the library to be shipped before March 5 the closing date of the campaign.

The Pocket Book Classic are acceptable and these are only $25 a copy and they are good reading. Let's go over the top in this campaign.

FORMAL DINNER AND DANCE

A gala and beautiful affair given recently for the officers and their wives of the United States Cadet Training Base at Henderson Point, was the formal dinner and dance afterwards at which Commander and Mrs. Hugh A. Andrews entertained on last Saturday evening at Hotel Reed.

The dinner and dance were given in the large dining room of Hotel Reed which had been appropriately decorated in a patriotic color scheme of red, white and blue, and the long table was resplendent with flowers of red, white and blue in two pretty center pieces.

The handsome and brilliantly braided uniforms of the officers, together with the beautiful gowns worn by their ladies, gave color to the dinner and dancing which was enjoyed afterwards to the tune of music provided by the orchestra from the training base.

In the receiving line with Commander and Mrs. Andrews were their niece, Miss Faye Tressler who is presently visiting them, and Lieutenant and Mrs. J. H. Johnson and after each officer had opened the envelope presented him upon his arrival in which was the name of his partner everyone marched into the dining room to the tune of "Marching Away." Ensign L. K. Klotzberger acted as toastmaster and served in an admirable way.

During the dinner songs were dedicated to the different officers at the Base, and at the conclusion, "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung by everyone and this song was dedicated to the cadets at the Base.

Besides the enjoyable entertainment, Mr. LeTissier served an excellent meal, and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour, and this first formal party given for the officers and wives of the Cadet Training Base was proclaimed a most enjoyable one.

The following officers and their wives attended the dinner-dance. Lt. Commander and Mrs. H. A. Andrews, Lt. and Mrs. A. E. Champeau, Lt. and Mrs. A. Bradley, Jr., Lt. and Mrs. S. A. A color scheme of blue and pink was carried out and Mrs. Favre was seated under a large paper covered parasol which was filled with gifts.

Little Larry Bontemps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bontemps, brought in the gifts in a cart which had been covered over in pink and blue, and because of the great number of beautiful and useful gifts received by Mrs. Favre, made many trips with his loaded cart.

A tray containing twenty six articles of a miscellaneous variety was passed before the guests who were asked to glance at it and guess the number and name of as many as possible of the articles, and Mrs. Sam Noto was the successful contestant and was presented with a prize of eight pretty cocktail glasses.

Last Day For Truck Operators to Get Official Tire Inspection Made

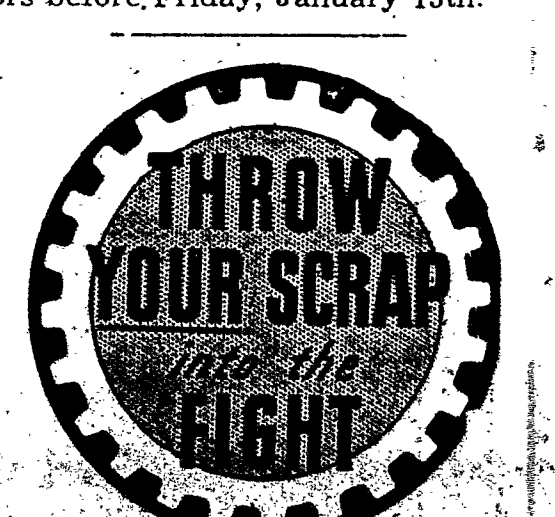

Today is the last day for truck operators to have their official tire inspection made. The deadline as set by the Office of Price Administration is today, January 15th.

Passenger car owners are also requested to have their tires checked before their deadline of January 31. It is important to car owners whose tires requiring recapping or replacement now or in the future to have this inspection made.

Under the present mileage rationing every passenger car or truck is now eligible for recaps or tire replacements upon recommendation of an official tire inspector, so you can readily see that it is to the advantage of the car owner or truck owner to have an official inspection made of his tires. However, in acting upon the inspector's recommendation the local rationing board is guided by its quota in issuing rationing certificates for recaps and tire replacements. When the monthly quota is exhausted, no more can be issued until the following month.

The Local Rationing Board also wishes to call to the attention of the official tire inspectors the fact that their endorsement should be made on the back of the certificates of War Necessity as issued to truck operators before Friday, January 15th.

Miss Althea C. Casanova, foreman, wishes to express appreciation to those who have sponsored and participated in the operation of this project. Especially to the Department of Public Welfare, County Health Department, and the Board of supervisors and Mr. A. G. Favre.
